Final Rites Conducted For Publisher

Funeral services were conducted Saturday for Samuel H. Winklebleck, 42, publisher of the Redwood City Tribune, who died Thursday after an illness of two years. From the flower-decked chapel of Franklin & Crowe Mortuary in Redwood City the remains were conveyed to Mt. Carmel Catholic Church where the Rev. Father John P. Cavanagh sang the Requiem High Mass. The benediction was delivered by Rev. Father Cornelius Kennedy, former pastor of the church and longtime friend of the deceased. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Relatives, friends, county and city officials and men and women prominent in the newspaper profession attended the services.

Three Taverns Face State Ban

Operators of three San Mateo County taverns will appear before Referee E. A. McDonald of the State Board of Equalization Monday at the courthouse in Redwood City to show cause why their license should not be suspended or revoked, members of the board said today.

Those scheduled to appear are:

J. O. Nutini of the Turf Club, San Bruno, charged with selling liquor to an intoxicated soldier.

Randall L. Johnson of the Naughty Pine, South San Francisco, charged with selling liquor to a minor.

William B. Meyer and Ralph R. Brooks of the Top Hat, Redwood City, charged with selling liquor to a minor.

A new material that is a combination of wood and plastic has recently been developed for airplane propellers by the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory.

Zinc is one of the few common metals not known to the Greeks and Romans.

Bank of America announced today that it has prepared 2750 individual packages for its employees in the armed services. The shipment of Christmas cheer weighs four tons, it was estimated. Included were safety razor blades, cigarettes, chewing gum, sweetmeats, candy bars and salted nuts. Bank of America men in service from the two Redwood City branches include John Henriouille, Tom Bailey, Charles Rayer, Ripley Joy, Melvin Loupe, Robert Langbehn, Eldon Mabie, Russell Wagner, Lawrence Honke, and Robert Fairburn.

Manuscript: Author's Work Torpedoed, Bombed

David Atkins of Coastways Ranch, Pescadero, today had received the first copy of his book, "A National Dimensional Economy," which was accepted for publication in London more than two years ago.

Under normal procedure the book would have been completed long ago, Atkins said, but this time the publication process met many hazards.

The original manuscript was on a ship which was torpedoed early in 1940.

A second copy went by air mail, arriving safely at the publishing house in London, but a bomb destroyed the publishers' building shortly after the manuscript's arrival.

The third copy was utilized successfully, but a further delay resulted from difficulty in obtaining permission from the British government to use the necessary paper.

Atkins, a graduate of Oxford University and a mining engineer, has written into his new book a theory of economics.

"The argument in the book," he said, "is that if land, valued only in terms of the population-density of the area in which it lies, were made the basis of our money, instead of gold, and the

Cruiser Captain Killed in Action

SAN CARLOS—Robert W. Dyer Sr. of St. Francis Way, San Carlos, has been advised by the Navy Department that his cousin, Capt. Robert Cassin Young was killed in naval action in the Solomons.

Captain Young, commander of the cruiser San Francisco, was on the bridge with Adm. Daniel J. Callaghan when an enemy shell struck the ship.

The captain was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1916 and served in World War I. He held the rank of commander at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack and was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for individual heroism for his deeds at that time.

He leaves a widow, living in Coronado, and a brother, also an Annapolis graduate, who is believed to be in Solomons' waters.

He was born in Washington, D. C., the direct descendant of Adm. John Cassin, hero of the American War for Independence. Admiral Cassin's son, Stephen B. Cassin, who served as a commodore in the war with Tripoli and in the War of 1812, and whose sword now hangs in the Smithsonian Institute.

So famed has been the Cassin family in naval annals that there has always been an American warship named for some member.

John Cassin Dyer, a second mate in the merchant marine who is now at sea, has been notified of Captain Young's death, the senior Dyer said.

landowner could demand money without interest as the gold owner does now, our money would be more rational. If taxation were on the same basis, the owner of agricultural land would pay his fair share instead of about four times his fair share."

Red Cross Needs More Magazines

An appeal for more up-to-date magazines, recent books, playing cards and phonograph records is being made today by Mrs. J. R. Fox of the Red Cross camp and hospital service.

The shelves were cleaned out this week following an appeal from a naval unit, so a stock of replacement material is urgently needed, according to Mrs. Fox. Not only did the Redwood City Red Cross provide the sailors with games, cards and reading matter, but also supplied them with a phonograph and a collection of records.

As before, Mrs. Fox stressed the point that magazines must be issues of the past two or three months, excepting Readers Digest, Fortune and Life. Ditty bags are also needed.

"Please don't use this as just another opportunity to clean out the attic," she said.

The total area of the Galapagos Islands is 2868 square miles.

Belmont Residents Ask Bus Service

BELMONT—A plea for establishment of a bus service to accommodate residents of outlying districts featured business before the Belmont City Council at its meeting Monday night in the Belmont City Hall.

Presented by Charles Colliers, who explained the necessity for a bus line now that commuters are experiencing difficulty obtaining gasoline and tires, the move was turned down by council on the ground that such business operations were not the business of city government but rather constituted a private business enterprise.

Robel Held To Answer

Joseph J. Robel, 35, former San Mateo laundryman, has been held to answer to superior court for the shooting of Mrs. Eva Allison of East Palo Alto, Oct. 23, after a lover's quarrel. Preliminary hearing, scheduled for Judge Edward I. McAuliffe's justice court in Redwood City, was waived at request of Robel's attorney, Jake Ehrlich.

Scout News: 150 Honored At RC Court of Honor

More than 150 southern division Boy Scouts today held badges and high awards presented at a Court of Honor held in Redwood City under the direction of Advancement Chairman Amerigo Rossi of Redwood City.

badges; Fred Nicolaie, Eagle Scout badge.

Oscar H. Kirkham of the National Boy Scout Council was principal speaker on the program.

The San Mateo Boy Scout Band provided music and members of San Carlos Troop 153 presented a pageant of advancement.

A tenderfoot investiture of 10 charter members of the new San Carlos Troop 154, headed by J. P. Riley, was a feature of the evening. Redwood City Scoutmaster Hiram Stout and Troop 120 scouts conducted the ceremony.

Approximately 250 parents and scouts attended the Court of Honor.

Scouters and Cubbers from all parts of the county will convene again tonight at St. Paul's Parish Hall, Burlingame, at 8 o'clock for the 18th annual meeting of the scout council under the direction of President Perry A. Bydnes of Redwood City. Kirkham also will speak at this meeting.

Officers, executive board and county council members for the next year will be elected by official delegates.

Famed Tabletops Sold for $100

Confirmation by the San Mateo County Superior Court of the sale of 15 tabletops which could recall much of Stanford University's history was sought today, according to an affidavit on file in Redwood City.

The tabletops, which are sugarpine, 5 feet in diameter and about 3 inches in thickness, bearing carvings of names, initials and photographs of Stanford football teams of the past years, have been sold to Alexander Beltramo, 1540 El Camino Real, Menlo Park, for $100. Herbert Hoover's name is carved in one of the tabletops.

The last will of Hortense M. Larkin, in which James T. O'Keefe, Redwood City attorney was named executor, ordered that the tabletops be sold to the highest bidder, subject to confirmation by superior court of the sale. Charles Meyers, formerly of Menlo Park, is the original owner of the tabletops, according to Beltramo.

Public war housing which totaled about 235 million dollars in the first half of this year will approximate 400 million dollars for the calendar year, the Department of Commerce reports.

Farrell Jails Burglar Suspect

John T. Cynko, 24, San Francisco welder's helper, was held at the county jail on a charge of burglarizing the Menlo Junior College locker room on Oct. 6. He was arrested in San Francisco Saturday and was taken to the county jail here by Atherton police.

Atherton Police Chief J. E. Farrell said today Cynko is suspected of taking two watches, valued together at $100, and approximately $40 in cash from the clothing of junior college students while they were practicing football between 3 and 5 p. m. on Oct. 6.

Farrell said Cynko was first suspected because of a similarity between the burglary and one perpetrated in 1937 at the same junior college. At the time of the 1937 crime, Farrell said, Cynko was arrested at Stanford for a similar offense there and was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail for petty theft. He was not tried for the junior college burglary.

The Atherton chief said the stolen watches of the Oct. 6 burglary were located in an Oakland pawn shop and that they had been traced to Cynko. The prisoner has not admitted the offense, Farrell said.

Cynko is an ex-convict and at the present time, is a parole violator, Farrell charged today.

Married Men Face December Draft

George F. Paul, chief clerk of Redwood City-San Carlos-Belmont Selective Service Board 106, has announced that the board may take married men on the next induction date—Nov. 28—and said that married men definitely will be taken in December.

"We are just about out of single men," he said.

The local board will have to fill "fairly large" quotas the next two induction dates, he stated. Following the Nov. 28 induction date, men will be inducted from the local board Dec. 7—first anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Men inducted now may request only a seven-day leave after their final physical examination, Paul said, instead of 14 days, as in the past.

Guardsmen Held For Burglary

Boy V. Comara, alias Mario Camaro, 27, state guardsman, was being held in San Francisco today for burglarizing a Redwood City barber shop, according to Dep. Dist. Atty. Burress Karmel. Comara is accused of stealing barber tools from the Broadway Barber Shop at 2356 Broadway on Nov. 15, Karmel said.

Comara is confined to a San Francisco hospital with injuries suffered when he wrecked a San Francisco battalion fire chief's car. San Francisco police said. State guard officers said Comara was AWOL at the time.

They said he saw the fire chief's car parked on Seventh St., got in, backed it across the street, hit a pole, then started ahead and crashed into a pole on the other side of the street, completing his wreck job on the car.

Your water heater is tough and built to take it, but it will last longer if not abused. Keep your tank free of sediment and rust. Clear the tank about once a month. It's easy to do. Here is how. There is a drain faucet near the bottom of your automatic storage water heater. Attach a hose to this faucet. Turn on faucet and let water run into a bucket. Run off tank or drain. Run off clear water until it runs clear. It is not necessary to shut off any valves such as in coming water, gas burner or pilot light. Make sure too that the thermostat on your water heater is set on higher than 140 degrees.

Keep your AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER in use...

Coast Guard Orders: Bay Boaters Must Secure Identification Cards

All victims of "sea fever"—every man, woman or child over 14 years of age who expects to sniff salt water from the deck of any kind of a boat on San Francisco Bay—must have captain-of-the-port identification cards, according to new coast guard orders. Operators of all craft on the bay or its tributaries south of Dumbarton bridge must have licenses issued by the captain of the port, as well as the identification cards.

To assist peninsulans in complying with this new order issued by Lt. Cmdr. P. B. Cronk, U. S. Coast Guard, captain of the Port of San Francisco, a coast guard unit of four or five men will be at the Palo Alto Yacht Harbor Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week to issue the identifications and certificates, it was learned today.

Hours will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. at the yacht harbor.

Harbormaster Mark Nesbit said today that application blanks could be obtained in advance from him or from the Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce.

Applicants for the identification cards must submit at least one personal indorsement (signed by an employer, business associate, friend, relative, member of family or notary public) proof of citizenship, and three photos (one and a half inches square showing head and shoulders, full face, no head covering).

Harbormaster Nesbit points out that no person can go out on the bay in any kind of craft, either as operator or as a guest, without such a card. Anyone who contemplates pleasure or fishing trips on the bay should apply now for the cards, he said.

The captain of the port said: "Any boat, including row boats, or any vessel other than a public vessel of the United States operating in San Francisco Bay or its tributaries south of Dumbarton Bridge, or any boat or vessel which berths at or visits any wharf or shoreline south of Pier 45 on the west side of San Francisco Bay, is required to have a license issued by the captain of the port for such operation, and the operator and all other persons on board over 14 years of age are required to carry a captain of the port's identification card or a card or badge issued by certain federal agencies or shipyards that bear the notation across the face, 'Federal Fingerprints Taken,' lithographed thereon with the signature and the photograph of the bearer on the card or badge, or an identification card or badge issued by the army or navy."

"Boats may operate only during full daylight and may not operate during periods of low visibility due to the fog."

"Commercial vessels if necessary to the war effort will be licensed for night operation."

"Shotguns and ammunition may be carried only by bona fide duck hunters. Cameras may not be carried at all."

Army Encourages 'Teen Age Youths

The U. S. Army encourages young men 18 to 19 years of age to apply for officer candidate schools, it was announced today by San Francisco Recruiting and Induction District headquarters.

Men of that age who are physically fit and not engaged in vital war activity may enlist and select the branch of service that appeals to them. The army has opened 13 branches of service for the selection of 18 and 19-year-old youths: army air forces, cavalry, chemical warfare service, coast artillery, corps of engineers, field artillery, infantry, medical department, ordnance department, quartermaster corps, signal corps, armored force and corps of military police.

Youths interested may apply at the army recruiting station at 444 Market St., San Francisco.

Robert J. Desereau Joins Tribune Staff

Robert J. Desereau, advertising and promotion man, has joined the advertising staff of the Redwood City Tribune. He has worked most of his life in the Midwest, but recently has been engaged in coast-to-coast theatrical publicity work.

Desereau is married and plans to make his home in Redwood City. His wife is prominent in theatrical circles.

'Student Prince' Starts Sunday

A moving love story told with sympathy and understanding, embellished with great music and underlined with gay luster, always appeals to the theater-going public... which explains why audiences over all the country retain such an affectionate regard for "The Student Prince," the production which opens at the Curran (San Francisco) Sunday night, Nov. 29. But in times like these, the charm of this noted operetta are even greater than ever before in its colorful history as the record-breaking musical of the American stage. Nor is it difficult to understand why this should be.

One lives today in a period of storm and stress, when every edition of the newspaper brings with it some startling crisis in the affairs of men and nations. Boundaries change over night, people and men are crushed and imprisoned while the braver ones amongst them are subjected to bombings, the concentration camp has become a national European institution, ideologies have come to take the place of morals and the "Old Country" as we once knew it, is gone and never will return.

And "The Student Prince" recreates this "Old Country" so many of us knew and loved. It brings to the stage again the life that was Heidelberg's and which made it the most heart-warming college capital on the Continent. For "The Student Prince" tells the story of Prince Karl Franz Heidelberg... the Heidelberg that was gay and colorful and full of impish spirits, wide erudition, good beer, pretty women and lusty music.

The story this operetta tells is of the love of a prince for a pretty maiden of the Inn and how this love was interrupted when he was called back to the throne and again of his return to the town in a sentimental search for the romance of his youth.

And in telling the story, "The Student Prince" utilizes the great tunes of Sigmund Romberg... such wonderful melodies as "The Drinking Song," "Just We Two," "Deep in My Heart, Dear," "Let's All Be Gay, Boys," "Serenade" and many others.

A specially selected cast stars Everett Marshall, a former New York Metropolitan Opera star; also featured are Frank Hornaday, Barbara Scully, Detmar Popp, Agnes Cassidy, Nina Verala, Harry K. Morton, Zella Russell, Victor Morley, Lorraine Bridges, and Ann Pennington, also the famous singing male chorus.

Performances will be given every night, including Sunday at 8:30. Matinees are on Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30.

ALL OVER AMERICA RISES A HYMN OF THANKS

These are solemn days. Now we have come to realize the full meaning of Thanksgiving. Let us give thanks that we live here, under no shadow of oppression, in the only land of plenty left in the world.

And while we are giving thanks, let us take heed that we have many sacrifices and adjustments still to make, to preserve this way of life.

We must work, strive, fight. We must do without, and invest in War Bonds, our guarantee for future Thanksgivings.

The Penney Company, with stores in over 1600 American communities, plays an important part in making possible the national war-time savings for War Bonds and Victory!
